

Dear FCC,

As the vanguards of our public airwaves, I am sure that you are more than aware of the situation with Sinclair Broadcasting and their plans to air a movie that smears the democratic presidential candidate just weeks before the election, with no known plans for equal time to refute the misleading, poorly reported untruths.

This is one of the reasons your agency exists - to protect the public from underhanded, illegal politicking such as this. Sinclair has now clearly demonstrated the urgent need for regulation of the public airwaves, and perhaps they should be thanked for their efforts in setting such a shining example by not having their license renewed the next time it is due.

This goes far beyond the "republican" "democrat" schism - this is whether or not we are going to have a government for the people and by the people, or a government that serves and is served by big business interests.

Please look into this matter and do something about it. Jeepers, if we can all get crazy about seeing one millisecond of Janet Jackson's breast during the super bowl, then I hope we can get excited about the misuse of the public airwaves for political gain.

Thank you in advance for your efforts on this matter.

Sincerely,
Erich V. Bremer
